DETAILED ACTION

Priority

No priority claimed.

Information Disclosure Statement

No Information Disclosure Statement submitted.

Oath/Declaration

Applicant is now required to submit a substitute declaration or oath to correct the deficiency set forth, namely the declaration of a Continuation of copending application Serial No. 09/791,332. The substitute oath or declaration must be filed within the THREE MONTH shortened statutory period set for reply in the "Notice of Allowability" (PTO-37). Extensions of time may NOT be obtained under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136. Failure to timely file the substitute declaration (or oath) will result in ABANDONMENT of the application. The transmittal letter accompanying the declaration (or oath) should indicate the date of the "Notice of Allowance" (PTOL-85) and the application number in the upper right hand corner.

Specification

The abstract of the disclosure is objected to because it refers to a method which is not the claimed invention. Correction is required. See MPEP § 608.01(b).

The title of the invention is not descriptive. A new title is required that is clearly indicative of the invention to which the claims are directed.

The following title is suggested: Capillary Column Connector Assembly.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being clearly anticipated by patent application publication US 2002/0117855 A1, Rittenhouse.

In regards to claim 1, in Figure 3, Rittenhouse discloses a connector assembly comprising:

a connector having an internal conical shaped bore dimensioned so that a capillary column and auxiliary tubing can be press-fit into the bore; and an auxiliary length of cylindrical tubing having an inner diameter dimensioned so that a close fit is created when a capillary column is inserted through the auxiliary tubing and having an outer diameter dimensioned so that a fluid seal is created when the auxiliary tubing is press-fit into the bore.

In regards to claim 2, in Figure 3, Rittenhouse discloses the connector and the auxiliary length of tubing being dimensioned to accommodate a megabore column.

In regards to claim 3, in Figure 3, Rittenhouse discloses the connector and the auxiliary length of tubing being sized to accommodate a microbore column.

In regards to claim 4, in Figure 3, Rittenhouse discloses the connector being a press-fit union design or a three-way press-fit union design.

Art Unit: 3679

Claims 1-4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being clearly anticipated by US patent 5601785, Higdon.

In regards to claim 1, Higdon discloses a connector assembly comprising:
a connector (104) having an internal conical shaped bore dimensioned so that a capillary column and auxiliary tubing can be press-fit into the bore; and
an auxiliary length of cylindrical tubing (119) having an inner diameter dimensioned so that a close fit is created when a capillary column is inserted through the auxiliary tubing and having an outer diameter dimensioned so that a fluid seal is created when the auxiliary tubing is press-fit into the bore.

In regards to claim 2, Higdon discloses the connector and the auxiliary length of tubing being dimensioned to accommodate a megabore column.

In regards to claim 3, Higdon discloses the connector and the auxiliary length of tubing being sized to accommodate a microbore column.

In regards to claim 4, Higdon discloses the connector being a press-fit union design or a three-way press-fit union design.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure because it illustrates the inventive concept of the invention.
